

RIBERA DEL DUERO, SPAIN

PSI

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

PSI is a “neo-cooperative” venture between the partners, and many of the best independent grape growers in Ribera del Duero. A critical element of the PSI project is Peter Sisseck’s desire to preserve the region’s clonal heritage in its old, head pruned vineyards. To that end, Peter and Pablo have worked with the growers to identify their best parcels, and to promote healthier, more natural viticulture.

Established: 2006 (First Vintage: 2007)

Proprietors/Winemakers: Peter Sisseck / Pablo Rubio

Appellation: Ribera del Duero

Soils: Various calcareous clay and sand

THE WINES

|                         | Vineyard & Grapes   | Winemaking   | Average Production |
|-------------------------|---|--|--------------------|
| Ribera del Duero | Multiple growers throughout Ribera del Duero, with an average elevation of ~750m. Sustainable or biodynamic growing is encouraged, with yields <40 hl/hA. 90% Tinto Fino with 10% Garnacha. | 30+ day maceration with punchdown, followed by ~18 months in a mix of used barriques and large wooden tanks. | 12,500 cases       |